HORNER "SMOKES" OUT BOSS KELLY AND IS PLEASED

Says He'll Keep Mayor "Out in Open" Where He's "Harmless"

BULLETIN

Quincy, Ill., March 16.—(AP)—Gov. Henry Horner, who has been ill here at the home of L. P. Bonfey, chairman of the state aviation commission, left for Chicago at 11 A. M. today by automobile.

Chicago, March 16.—(AP)—A new broadside at Mayor Edward J. Kelly, declaring "Boss Kelly is on the way out," was fired by Governor Henry Horner today in a radio campaign address delivered by proxy.

The governor, who has been ill with throat trouble at Quincy, failed to arrive at station WLS to make the address, and it was read by James M. Slattery, attorney for the Chicago Park Board.

"I did not hope to smoke him out so soon," the governor's new attack said of the Chicago mayor. "But something has happened in Chicago, just as it has happened downstate. Apparently the courtiers couldn't keep the sad news from the 'boss' and he became panicky.

"Out he came, leading with his chin. "He's out in the open, and I'm going to keep him in the open. And when he is in the open, he is just as harmless as any other species that can't stand the light of day."

To Four North Counties
The address marked the opening of Horner's third week of intensive campaigning against the Kelly-Nash candidate, Dr. Herman N. Bunden, president of the Chicago board of health. The governor's aides said he planned to tour northern Illinois counties in the next few days.

He will speak in Wheaton, Batavia, Aurora and Joliet, tomorrow, Wednesday will take him to Morris and Pontiac.

The governor's attack on Kelly injected Kelly's former connection with the Chicago sanitary district, and the mayor's income tax negotiations with the federal government, into the already heated campaign.

Evaded Income Tax
The governor charged that as chief engineer for the sanitary district, during the "whoopie era" of 1926, '27 and '28, Kelly "was able to evade payment of $105,000" in taxes on "his income of $450,000," but was forced to settle when the Roosevelt administration went in.

The governor cited this in replying to the "Roosevelt issue" raised by the mayor, who has said Horner was "dumped" out of fear his "personal unpopularity" would decrease Roosevelt's Illinois vote.

The mayor "labored in vain" to defeat Roosevelt's nomination in 1932, said the governor.

Others "Don't Belong"
Quoting Kelly as saying "I have nothing against Henry Horner—he just doesn't belong," the governor said:

"He has found out others don't belong—to him."

One of them, said Horner, was United States District Attorney Michael L. Igoe.

"Boss Kelly tried by every subtle and subterranean means to prevent his appointment," the governor said of Igoe.

"But at Washington there is another man who doesn't belong, according to the Kelly standard. It is no other than President Franklin D. Roosevelt. And the national administration turned a deaf ear to 'Boss Kelly's plea against Igoe, just as it turned a deaf ear to 'Boss Kelly when he was forced to pay from $105,000 to $110,000 to the federal government on his income of $450,000 during the 1926, 1927 and 1928."

BOTH WANT PENSION
Bishop Hill, Ill., March 16.—(AP)—When Mrs. Mary W. Thompson, 72, filed out an application for an old age pension she surprised investigator B. A. Kennedy today by remarking "mother wants one too." The mother, Mrs. Andrietta Ulrika Oak, wrote "97" as her age. Both born in Sweden, they have lived in Henry county 69 years.

FIRST OLD AGE PENSION CHECKS ABOUT APRIL 1st

State Officials Will Not Wait for Action in Washington

Springfield, Ill., March 16.—(AP)—James H. Andrews, state superintendent of old age pensions, said today the first checks would be issued around April 1, regardless of whether the federal social security board approved the Illinois law by that time.

He issued instructions to all county welfare commissions to begin passing on applications immediately upon completion of the investigation of each case. The first county approved applications would probably be here Wednesday for state action, he said.

It will take about two weeks, Andrews explained, for each request for a pension to go through the state machinery.

In the instructions to the county commissions, the superintendent pointed out that because federal approval with subsequent financial participation had been delayed in Washington, the maximum pension would be $15 until the national board accepted the state system.

Andrews said he received reports from several field men of his department today, showing that the counties were progressing rapidly with the establishment of the local offices and that case work was underway in many of the counties.

FLOOD IN COOK CO.
Chicago, March 16.—(AP)—Applications for state old age pensions flooded Cook county public welfare bureau offices today—the first on which they were officially received.

Joseph L. Moss, director of the bureau, said more than 100,000 applications had been distributed, from which were expected to come more than 30,000 pension cases in the county and Chicago proper.

Applications will be investigated by a special staff, Moss said, made up from county civil service lists and employees of the Illinois emergency relief commission.

Downstate, the pension applications were rolling in in large numbers. More than 400 have been filed in Champaign county, 450 in Knox, 1,400 in LaSalle, 900 in McLean, 2,000 in Madison, 1,200 in Marion, 2,000 in Rock Island, 3,000 in Sangamon and 1,000 in Vermillion.

Green Seeking Nomination As Attorney Again

Green, a young war veteran who won national notice as the man who presented the income tax case which sent Al Capone, gang leader, to prison, said he was entering the campaign "as a business man and a lawyer."

"I will try and inject certain issues that will not be of a political nature, because I am not a politician," he said.

Green will work with George A. Barr, Joliet, Ill., who is Glenn's state campaign manager.

FEARFUL TRUCK FARMER KILLED AUNT AND SELF

Lockport Man Also Attempted to Murder His Aged Mother

Joliet, Ill., March 16.—(AP)—Apparently crazed, the police said because of fear that he would lose his two-acre truck farm, Laurence Dvorak, 40, killed his 74-year-old aunt with a hatchet today, hacked his mother with the same weapon and then killed himself.

The mother, Mrs. Julia H. Dvorak, 70, said she saved her life by feigning death after being struck several blows.

Dvorak, who moved from Chicago to a small tract near Lockport, Ill., five years ago lived on his farm with the two women.

Neighbors attracted to the farmhouse by screams found the aunt, Anna Peeney, and Dvorak dead. Mrs. Dvorak was bleeding from wounds in the head and right hand.

Mrs. Dvorak said her son had been brooding for months over being in relief and the fear that his small piece of land would be taken from him.

Pretended Death.
The mother said that after being hit on the head she pretended to be dead. The son, she related, then took her apparently lifeless form and placed it on the dead body of the aunt.

The body of the son was found in an adjoining room. He had shot himself through the mouth with a .22 caliber rifle.

"I could hear Anna moaning, but I could not see her face because I was lying crosswise over her body," Mrs. Dvorak told Coroner E. A. Kingston.

"I held my breath and pretended I was dead. Laurence bent over us and listened to Anna beg for water. He went out into the kitchen, got a glass of water and helped her to drink it. Then he struck her twice more with the hatchet, killing her."

"He bent over me and apparently thought I was dead. Then he kissed me and said he was sorry he had to do it, but that it was all for the best."

Mrs. Dvorak said her son then got his rifle, placed the muzzle in his mouth and killed himself.

Physicians said they did not believe the mother's wounds to be critical.

Judge Leech Charges City of Dixon is Economizing With Crime Through Unwillingness to Board Prisoners

County Judge William Leech today charged that the city of Dixon was economizing on crime. The statement was made by the court following the hearing of disturbing the peace contained in informations filed by State's Attorney Edward A. Jones against William Russell and John Edwards, Negroes, who were taken in custody Friday evening following an alleged altercation on West Woodlawn avenue, south of the city limits.

On the witness stand Russell admitted that he had been ordered to stay away from Dixon for a period of one year, but remained absent only a short time. The order had contained a clause which provided for his arrest and confinement in the county jail for failure to abide by the order of Justice J. O. Shaugh, Russell testified. In response to questions, he admitted having been involved in numerous offenses since establishing a residence in Dixon.

In explaining to the court the city's action, Chief Van Bibber stated that Russell had been living outside the city limits, but had been employed on the WPA rolls. The court, when informed that city officials were not desirous of paying for the board of city prisoners at the county jail, charged the city officials with economizing with crime and failing to prosecute offenders, with the result that county officials are criticized for not enforcing the laws.

Both Russell and Edwards entered pleas of guilty in the county court this morning and testimony was taken. Edwards testified that he feared Russell and was attempting to get away from him Friday evening, fearing that he might sustain bodily injury, when he ran to a house on West Woodlawn avenue and requested that a taxi cab be summoned. Instead, deputies from the sheriff's office arrived on the scene and took him in custody. Both men admitted that they had been drinking. Judge Leech ordered that both be present in court at 1:30 this afternoon to receive sentence.

They were sentenced to 30 day terms in the county jail when they appeared this afternoon, and in addition were given a sound lecture. Russell, in addition to the jail sentence was instructed to seek another climate when released, with a promise of a much more severe sentence in the event that he refused to obey the warning.

Where to Get It?

Washington, Mar. 16.—(AP)—A possibility that congressional tax drafters may have to resort to proceedings taxes to fill out President Roosevelt's $792,000,000 revenue program appeared today despite a desire among both Democrats and Republicans to avoid such election year levies.

"We don't have to go to processing taxes, but we shall have to go somewhere to get the $792,000,000," Chairman Samuel B. Hill (D-Wash.) of the House Ways and Means tax subcommittee said.

"Of course if the March 15 income tax returns show a very great increase over estimates, that would help a lot."

The subcommittee, he told reporters, spent two hours this morning struggling over the question of how to collect income taxes from foreigners on their dividends from stock in American corporations. No decision was reached.

SUPREME COURT HEARS ANOTHER NEW DEAL CASE

Washington, March 16.—(AP)—Another New Deal case involving constitutionality of the public utility holding company act was appealed today to the Supreme Court.

The court met in brief session, but handed down only two decisions of restricted significance and a list showing what new appeals they had decided to entertain or ignore. Thereupon the justices adjourned until March 30.

No ruling was given on the long-pending anti-trust suit of the government against the sugar institute.

The holding company case appeal was filed by Burco, Inc., of Baltimore, from a ruling by the Circuit Court of Appeals at Charlotte.

The Circuit court declined to pass upon the constitutionality of the law but ruled that the American States Public Service Company did not have to register with the securities and exchange commission because it did only an interstate business.

Burco, Inc., was attempting to force the trustees of the Public Service Company to register with the commission.

The federal district court at Baltimore had held the legislation unconstitutional.

Defies Court Order Keeps Children Out Of School Classes

Joliet, Ill., March 16.—(AP)—Defying a court order issued by County Judge George N. Blatt, Joseph Watson today kept his two school-age daughters away from the public classes from which he withdrew them in January.

Watson, WPA worker and former high school science instructor, was ordered last week to return the children to school under penalty of a contempt citation.

When classes were resumed today the Watson girls, Frances, 9, and Esther, 7, were recorded as absent in the grammar school roll, but in the private classroom of the Watson home they were marked "present."

Watson asserted he would continue to ignore the order and that he would appeal the case. He said he was teaching his children at home because their progress was being retarded by "mechanized methods" in public schools.

He has three daughters younger than Frances and Esther.

Dixon Legionnaire is Dead in Chicago

George Osbaugh, for several years a resident of Dixon and a veteran of the World War, passed away Saturday evening at his home in Chicago, his death terminating a lingering illness. He was born in Muscatine, Iowa, Aug. 10, 1894, but had spent the greater part of his life time in Dixon, and for some time was a valued employee of the Brown Shoe company's local plant.

He is survived by his widow and one sister, Mrs. Ross Bovey of this city. A brother Floyd met a tragic death five years ago to the day, in a landslide at Danville. His parents and two children have preceded him in death.

Mr. Osbaugh was a member of Dixon post, No. 12, American Legion. He served two years overseas during the World War, a member of the Thirty-third division and was wounded in action and gassed. Leaving Dixon a few years ago, he was employed in Beloit, Wis., for a time and removed from that city to Chicago to accept a fine position. The body was taken to Proplestown where internment will take place Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock following services to be conducted from the First Methodist church.

Extortion Racket Extended to England: Countess Barbara Intended Victim

Youth Arrested For Asking $1000 to Reveal Plot

Manchester, Eng., March 16.—(AP)—Alfred Molyneux, 31, of Lancashire, was jailed today on a charge of attempting to extort $1,000 from Countess Barbara Hutcheon Haugwitz-Reventlow by pretending to reveal a plot to kidnap her new-born son.

Police said that Molyneux had admitted writing a letter during "moments of depression," offering to disclose the "plot." He was remanded in custody for a week.

The prisoner was trapped by police when he went to keep a rendezvous with a "messenger from the Countess." He told the police that no kidnap plot existed.

Molyneux was arrested Saturday. The letter went into details as to how contact between Molyneux and an agent from the Countess should be made in Manchester.

Trap Was Laid

Detective-Inspector Forster told the police court that the Countess gave the letter to her lawyer who informed the police, whereupon the requested advertisement was inserted in the newspaper.

On Saturday, the inspector said, a detective carrying a dummy package stood at the designated spot while other detectives watched. Molyneux was arrested when he appeared at the stated time and received the package from the detective.

Forster testified that a letter was received at the Haugwitz-Reventlow London home March 7 reading:

"Dear Countess: 'I have read of your having a charming son. Now don't get panicky."

"Had 'Elaborate Plans'"
"You should know that two men have left Manchester to kidnap this son and you'd be surprised to hear what elaborate plans have been made for his confinement while they wait for the ransom they intend to demand from you."

"If you would learn of these plans, please send some one to meet me in Manchester at once and I will let you know what I know."

"Do not get the police or I shall talk. Please be sure to bring £200 in treasury notes."

The letter, which added, "that I am doing this for revenge money does not matter so much," contained instructions as to where the Countess's agent should meet the writer.

It ordered that the agent was to "have a red silk handkerchief in his left hand."

The Hammond organ will be demonstrated to music lovers of Dixon in a free concert in the First Methodist Episcopal church tonight at 8 o'clock. Walter Flannord, distinguished concert organist of Chicago, will be at the console and will offer a diversified program of church music and classical and semi-classical numbers. Mr. Flannord has been for years the organist of the People's church, Chicago. Last summer he gave regular concerts on the Hammond organ in the Ford Bowl at the San Diego Exposition.

This remarkable instrument has been on the market less than a year. It requires pipe organ technique on the part of the player, but the console is no larger than a spinet desk. The organ costs no more than a good grand piano, it requires no installation, but is ready to play in being connected with the nearest electric outlet.

Local musicians, no matter their affiliations, are invited to hear the Hammond. William J. Bennett, representative of the company, will explain its operation and tonal possibilities.

LOBBYIST HELPS SIX DEMOCRATS PAY HOUSE RENT

Shares Residence in Washington With Congressmen

Washington, March 16.—(AP)—Testimony that he had entertained many members of congress and shared a house with six of them while working for certain legislation was given to the senate lobby committee today by Robert E. Smith, chairman of the National Conference of Inventors.

Slouched comfortably in the witness chair and referring to representatives as "the boys," Smith said that western power companies contributed the bulk of $25,177 contributed to his National Security Holders Association from January 1, 1935, to September 30, 1935. He listed $23,798 of this as going for his own salary and expenses.

His genial manner vanished momentarily when Senator Schweichbach (D-Wash.) charged he had practiced deception by asking investors to join his association at $1 apiece without telling them railroad, power companies and other large interests had put up $27,000.

BACKBONE

By Joseph Fort Newton

IT was in the last days of the Cleveland administration, and the jingoes and profiteers were howling for war with Spain. Fair Cuba must be rescued from the tyrant and her injustice avenged, they said.

There was only one obstacle in the way of their self-righteous altruism, and that was the president himself. He had been repudiated by his own party as well as by the nation, but he had not lost his own soul.

One Saturday afternoon, so the story goes, a delegation of excited Congressmen waited upon the President, and told him point-blank: "We have about decided to declare war against Spain and free Cuba."

The President drew himself up and said: "There will be no war with Spain over Cuba while I am President." One member of the delegation flushed up and said angrily, "You seem to forget, Mr. President, that the Constitution gives Congress the right to declare war."

The President answered: "Yes, but it also makes me Commander-in-Chief, and I will not mobilize the army. I happen to know we can buy the island of Cuba from Spain for $100,000,000, and a war will cost vastly more than that. It would be an outrage to declare war."

Some of the biographers of Cleveland reject the story, some accept it. Anyway it sounds very much like him. If he thought he was right he stood by his thought, and nothing could move him an inch. How few men can stand up against a tide of popular wrath or a storm of wild passion, often whipped up by groups that have selfish ends to gain. It takes grit to do it, plain old-fashioned backbone.

It is the difference between a politician and a statesman—one is a rock against which storms break, the other yields to pressure, goes with the tide, floats on the stream, follows the drift.

A weak man is swayed by the mood of the hour, a strong man follows a star. Each has his reward—one wins the praise of the moment, the other must wait for the clearer, juster judgment of history.

What we need is leaders, not men who trail along in the wake of the ship.

Severe Winter Is Greatest Nimrod

Chicago, March 16.—(AP)—The winter of 1936 was adjudged the greatest of all nimrods today.

Wild life stocks were reduced sharply in northern states from South Dakota to New York, a survey showed, by the ice, snow and low temperatures of the coldest weather in years.

So severe was the winter that four states—South Dakota, Oklahoma, Kansas and South Carolina—have ordered or are considering closed seasons this year to replenish depleted stocks.

Reports from 27 state conservation commissions also revealed that Michigan and Arkansas have ordered state-wide surveys to determine the extent of the losses—greater than in previous years despite increased appropriations by sportsmen for grain and hay when natural food supplies were shut off.

STRANGE REASONING—OR NOT?

Senator Tydings, Maryland democrat, in company
with Governor Ritchie of Maryland and the Baltimore Sun of Maryland, other notable democrats, gave no support to the New Deal in the making, as it developed socialistic program.The senator, however, seems inclined to support the president as a personal matter as the election approaches.If President Roosevelt is returned to his high office,
he will be a changed man, Senator Tydings is reported to have said.

What are we to make of that?

Does he mean that Roosevelt, having double-
crossed the democrats after they elected him in 1932,
is now prepared to double-cross the socialists if he is re-elected in 1936?

The senator should elucidate.

LAST WEEK ABROAD

With the French still muttering about waging a preventive war against Germany single-handed, last week was one of the most alarming seven-day periods in post-war European history. The occasion for France's threats was Germany's refusal to withdraw troops from the erstwhile demilitarized Rhineland.
France claims the presence of the troops constitutes a distinct threat to the republic's security. Germany's attitude is that France's mutual defense pact with Russia constitutes an aggressive alliance against the reich;
that it is a violation of the spirit and word of the Lo-
carno pact and the covenant of the League of Nations.
In other words, "You hit me first."If bad comes to worse and shooting starts, no one knows exactly what Germany may spring in the way of new weapons. But unless Hitler is certain he can repel invasion of the Rhineland and East Prussia, it would appear he has overbid his hand. His movement of troops against the French frontier struck what might easily be a death blow at the league and the Lo-carno pact. If the allied powers wish to prevent the rise of Germany to the full status of a world power, now is the time for them to clamp down. Otherwise, after Hitler has strengthened his present position, the powers will have to bargain with Germany on a give-and-take basis. Up to now they have been in the saddle.
Tomorrow they will have to share that position.Just how much the powers can achieve against Germany by application of sanctions remains to be seen, but it is hard to understand how they can apply
drastic sanctions against the reich without hurting themselves almost as much. It will be remembered that Germany once defaulted in payment of reparations,
and the French government marched troops immediately into the Ruhr district. Immediately the German economic machine collapsed utterly and it was necessary for French and British banks to advance credits to prevent loss of their own investments. The situation became so bad that the demand for withdrawal of the Ruhr invaders was greater in Britain and France than it was in Germany.It still is a fact that Germany is one of the prime economic powers of Europe. Thus it appears that the only way to get the German troops out of the Rhineland is by force of arms, for when war exists a new set
of economic conditions arises, with governments in control of credits and debits.On the other hand, it appears that Germany is adopting the same attitude that Japan adopted in its invasion of Manchuria, and as Italy did in Ethiopia.
If you want us out, come and put us out. That, of course, means war, and it may be said that neither France nor England, on the west of Germany, desire war. They lack credits. Britain is having plenty of trouble with Italy and Egypt, without adding Germany to her list of worries. French statesmen are beating their breasts and working up a great deal of false
courage against Germany, but they know that with Britain supporting them about as thoroughly as they have supported Britain against Italy, they would have little chance of giving the reich a sound drubbing.Of course Russia is anxious that the present Nazi government of Germany be overthrown. It hates the Nazi philosophy even more than it hates capitalism.
But on the other side of Russia is Japan with a recently strengthened military government. If Russia becomes embroiled with Germany on the west, the temptation to assail Russia from the east would be almost more than the hair-trigger Japs could bear. We may wager that anything the Russians undertake will be tempered by the Japanese threat.In all the European turmoil Italy's conquest of Ethiopia has taken a back seat. We were informed that Italy had ceased active hostilities, except for bombing another British Red Cross unit. It was apparent before the German climax that Mussolini was going to be allowed a pretty free hand in Ethiopia. Now that Hitler has occupied the center of the stage it would seem that Mussolini is going to have more latitude than ever.As an incident of the observance of the third anniversary of the Roosevelt in the White House, both Mr. and Mrs. Roosevelt said the three years had proved educational. But what a terrible cost their education has been to the people!You and Your Nation's Affairs

Ah! The Intelligentsia!

By JAMES S. THOMAS

President, Clarkson College of Technology

We are scared. We are afraid our officials cannot govern us, that our economic system cannot feed and clothe us, that our preachers cannot save us. Being scared we listen with rapt attention while the intelligentsia tell us, that the chief interest of business men is to bring on periodic collapses.In case you don't know, the intelligentsia is that interesting
group among us who spend so much of their time formulating a philosophy about life, to justify themselves in having nothing to do with it, that they haven't any time left to take any part in it. They tell us also that our farmers are all failures; that we who work are oppressed; that we who don't are pauperized; that our statesmen are venal and hired; that criminals rule our cities; that we owe ourselves so much money we are bankrupt; and that what we don't owe ourselves, we have lent to Europe.Well, there is nothing new about this. The same thing has been going on for 150 years. I can cite the quotations to prove it to any doubting brother. A crop of calamity howlers came over in the first boats at Jamestown, and 13 years later the Mayflower had its quota, as well.Yes, in spite of these simple facts,
these oppressed workmen, these venal statesmen, these panic-making
business men, these callous bankers,
these "money bags of Wall Street,"
these fortune hunters who play these marvelous tricks! She has given thiscountry the most wonderful century and a half the world has ever seen.Since 1914 we have built more concrete roads than all the rest of the world combined. We have more automobiles to run over them than all the rest of the world. We have more telephones than all the rest of the world, more radios, and we listen to more stuff over these radios. Since 1900 we have built some twenty million modern homes and electrified
them. We have more electric ranges
and refrigerators than all of Europe,
and more bath tubs than all the rest of the world. We have the highest buildings in the world, more railroads
than all of Europe, and more large cities than any other part of the planet.Yes, I anticipated what some of you would say, "But this is only materialistic culture." To be sure it is. But materialistic culture is important.
Very important!There are two kinds of culture in the world; an idealistic culture about which everybody raves, and a materialistic culture about which nobody raves. But the materialistic culture has always done the obviously prosaic thing of paying for the idealistic culture. If you don't believe this, ask any good taxpayer, or philanthropist inclined gentleman with a little money. Why? It did it for Aristotle, who, by the way, had the good sense
to marry the richest woman in Greece. Her money gave him the leisure time in which to think, and I have not the slightest doubt that she gave him plenty to think about—and so he became a philosopher.But you say, "There is no music in clanking coins. There is no culture in the market place." Well, if you don't find culture in the market place you won't find it at all.

More of this next week.

The Blackeyed Susan landed in the vase, and then said, with a grin, "Say, wasn't that a dandy jump. I'm clever as can be."
"I do my jumping while at play, perhaps a dozen times a day. If you want me to jump again, just keep your eyes on me.""Oh, never mind," said Scouty.
"You have proved to us what you can do. Now, tell us, why do you like standing in that monstrous
vase?""Why don't you stay out on the ground, where you are free to roam around? When you need rest, I'd think that you could find a better place."The Blackeyed Susan answered,
"Well, that's something that I cannot tell. The vase just seems to pull me toward it when I am
around.""Besides, for comfort it is grand.
Just room enough where I can stand. Now, tell me who you tots are, and exactly where you're bound.""Were Twynmites," fair Goldy said. "We like to move around."Instead of staying in one place. It really is a lot of fun."We never care much where we go, so where we're bound for we don't know. I guess we've just about seen everything beneath the sun.""Why, sure," cried Duncy. "We are smart. I'm sure we've been in every part of this whole earth.
We get fun out of everything we do.""The thing that worries me right
now, and has for some time, is just how we're going to keep on having fun, when nothing's left
that's new."Just then a voice exclaimed,
"Ho, ho! That shows just how much you don't know. I have a hunch that I'm a sight you've never seen before.""Why it's a cactus," Coppy cried.

real nice prickling is in store."Copyright, 1936, NEA Service, Inc.

Washington—The New Dealers
are bringing High Commissioner
Frank Murphy of the Philippines
back here the latter part of March.
to give a new personality to the radio. The commissioner—he was former mayor of Detroit and our governor general in the Philippines until their independent government was recently set up—is said to be a humdinger on the air, one who can put Father Coughlin to shame. In fact, it may be said, that he is being brought back to offset the Pa-ther whom the New Dealers are very wary of.Murphy's friends go into ecstasy
when they talk about how he can sway the crowd over the air. When he conducted his Detroit mayoralty
campaign in 1930 he exclaimed
with his mellow voice: "We want the dew and the sunshine dawn of a new tomorrow." In Detroit they immediately dubbed him the "dew and sunshine boy." After all you've got to admit, there is rhythm to them that words.Father Coughlin's voice is resonant. The former Detroit mayor's is said to be a mellifluous list. He is,

No matter how many medicines
you have tried for your cough, chest
cold or bronchial irritation, you can get relief now with Creomulsion.
Serious trouble may be brewing and
you cannot afford to take a chance with anything less than Creomul-
sion, which goes right to the seat
of the trouble to aid nature to soothe and heal the inflamed membranes as the germ-laden phlegm
is loosened and expelled.Even if other remedies have failed, don't be discouraged, your druggist is authorized to guarantee Creomulsion and to refund your money if you are not satisfied with results from the very first bottle.
Get Creomulsion right now. (Adv.)mer Cummings, who had been slated
for the Philippine post, was made Attorney General, off went Frank to the islands where he has made a darned good record.The Administration's action in bringing him back to campaign on the radio shows their realization of the fact that the public is tiring
of the old stars. Mr. Roosevelt himself didn't get a very good reaction from his recent "State of the Union"
speech but this was largely attributable to the mob-like aspect of it.
Aside from that, though, it is a fact that his "My friends" greeting is coming to wear. It is a well known trade secret that the radio will kill
you off quicker than anything else
in the world. Writers of music long since realized upon their pound of flesh for the radio use of their productions. They want the radio to introduce the music but then to lay off of it or pay well.It's rather clever strategy on the part of the New Dealers to change their presentation. And their new star, Frank Murphy, is said to be really good. A man who can utter
"We want the dew and the sunshine dawn of a new tomorrow" ought to be
of course, he won't be able to say exactly that, because that's what we thought we got when we got Mr.
Roosevelt.

DAILY HEALTH

FACTS ABOUT PNEUMONIA.

Lobar pneumonia must always be considered a serious disease which even under favorable circumstances threatens life. Men withstand pneumonia somewhat better than women. The age of the patient is of special importance, the mortality being greatest at the extremes.
The fatality rate is low for individuals in vigorous health, higher
for those in weak condition.Pneumonia patients who suffer from chronic disease, who are obese, pregnant or alcoholics, make poor risks.Pneumonia is a disease with a fairly constant, characteristic on-
set. The condition develops abruptly. The patient complains of a pain in the side, coughs and suffers
a chill or chilliness. At first the cough is dry. Shortly, however,
the patient brings up a thick, rusty expectoration. The temperature rises rapidly and may reach 102
to 104 degrees F. within a few hours. There is a characteristic anxiety in the appearance of the patient, which signals pneumonia. The sufferer prefers to lie on the affected side, his breathing
is rapid, being out of all proportion to his fever.It is imperative, in order to safeguard the favorable issue of the disease, that a diagnosis be made as early as possible. When any of the above symptoms appear, a physician should be called promptly.Lobar pneumonia is to be distinguished from broncho-pneumonia. The latter is a condition
more frequently seen among young children and aged individuals. It can seldom be effectively treated with serum.Pneumonia means an inflammation of the lung. The inflammation may be caused by a variety of agents and germs, but approximately 96 per cent of all pneumonia cases are caused by the germs belonging to the pneumococci group. At one time it was thought that all pneumonia germs are alike. Today it is known that there are at least 32 types of pneumonia germs, and that these differ substantially from each other.Tomorrow—The Serum Treatment of Pneumonia.Finland has rejected a proposal
to compel the use of alcohol-gasoline blended motor fuel.TYPOGRAPHICAL EXHIBIT AT MT.
MORRIS IS FINE24 States, 2 Foreign Countries Represented in ContestMt. Morris, Ill., March 16.—Art,
as the printer interprets it, is the featured exhibit in the Kable Inn art galleries here for the next few weeks. The exhibition comprises the winning designs and nearly a hundred additional entries in a recent international prize contest.
Sweden, Canada, and twenty-four states of the United States are represented in the display.The contest was conducted jointly
by The Inland Printer, Chicago,
leading trade journal of the printing industry, and The Kablegram,
monthly house organ of Kable
Brothers Company, publication
printers, Mount Morris, to secure a series of covers for The Kablegram,
and likewise to stimulate creative
talent in the field of typographic
design. Twelve prizes, totalling $300, were offered. Contestants were limited to the use of type and typefounders' ornaments, no special drawings being permitted.
However, patterns cut in linoleum,
blank metal or in rubber were allowable.First prize ($75) was won by Leroy Barfuss, 24 years old, of Waterloo, Iowa, who used a design cut in rubber. Second prize ($50) went to Alfred Bader of New York City,
who used linoleum for his color
plate. Ben Wiley of Springfield, Ill., placed third and another Illi-noisian, John L. Dial, also of Springfield, placed sixth. Nils Buskquist of Uppsunda, Sweden, was among the winning twelve.Judges of the contest were: J.
L. Frazier, editor of The Inland Printer, Douglas C. Murtie, Lud-
low Typograph Company, Chicago, Oswald Cooper, type designer for Bertsch & Cooper, advertising typ-
ographers, Chicago, and Hec Mann, director of typography for Kable Brothers Company, Mt.
Morris.The exhibition is notable for its variety of technique and originality, and is as colorful as a watercolor show. Commercial artists and designers as well as printing
craftsmen are finding it highly ed-ucative, but the general public, as well, is evincing great interest. The display, hung in the lobby section of the Kable Inn galleries, may be viewed at all hours.IERC Undertakes
To Pare Its CostsChicago, March 16.—(AP)—The Illinois Emergency Relief Commission is undertaking to pare its administrative costs and clients
budgets only 8.8 per cent off original March estimates after receiving notice from the state treasurer
that an additional $500,000 would be made available from sales tax
funds.The information came last week
as the commission, confronted with a probable income of $4,586,754
against estimated needs of $5,293,- 000, sought ways of cutting costs
13.7 per cent.Chairman John C. Martin said the additional funds consisted of sales tax paid under protest and only recently released to the state
treasury.The commission allocated $250,000
immediately to its county agencies.
Leo M. Lyons, executive secretary,
said the remainder would not be allocated until he received official assurance it would be made available to the commission.A rainfall of an inch over an

Milestones of American Genius

ADMIRAL GEORGE DEWEY

It was not until he was sixty
that Admiral George Dewey
achieved the stature of a national hero. But a lifetime of devoted service to our country in peace
and war had prepared him for the moment when he became the outstanding figure of his day. Up until his great victory over the Spanish fleet in the Battle of Manila, won without loss of a single American life, Dewey's career was a progressive though unspectacular advance in rank.Back of the strategy which led to the annihilation of the enemy's fleet was a lifetime of earnest
preparation and many unac-
claimed jobs of naval heroism.
The memorials to him—such as the magnificent column on Union Square in San Francisco—express his countrymen's admiration not for one flash of genius
but for a rounded personality.Admiral Dewey grew up in the American Navy. Born on December 26, 1837, at Montpelier, Vermont, he was educated at the United States Naval Academy, Annapolis, incidentally, in the heart of our country's most important area for the production
of granite and marble, the materials for monuments as enduring as his contribution to American history.as the fame of the men to whom they are dedicated. Dewey's first fighting service was in the Civil War under that distinguished seaman, Admiral Farragut.After the Civil War, he gave conscientious service in many departments of the Navy, including several posts with Asiatic stations. At the outbreak of the Spanish-American War, Dewey
was chosen to command the Asiatic fleet. On May 1, 1898, he performed the feat of destroying the Spanish fleet in Manila,
and was immediately made a Rear Admiral and otherwise
honored.His homecoming in May, 1899,
was a triumphal tour marked by enthusiastic popular demonstrations. To honor him, Congress revived the rank of Admiral which had been held by only two others,
Farragut and David D. Porter.Dewey lived to the ripe old age of eighty, his declining years spent in Washington, D. C., in the service of the Navy. He died on January 16, 1917, and is interred at Arlington Cemetery.
There are many commemorative statues as permanent reminders
of his contribution to American history.

MEMORY OF THE NINETIES

By Edgar A. Guest

Men used to drink in the nineties

gay

When I was a youngster small,

But always the old horse knew the way

Back home to the barn and stall,

Then the neighborhood sot could

drop the rein

On the dashboard as his feet

And Dobbin would canter him

home again

While he snoozed on the buggy

seat.

When the wine was red and the

beer were foam

'Twas a common sight to see

The gray mare taking her master

home

From a night of revelry.

She would jog along with a click-

ety-clack

With her sodden, senseless load

And even stop at the railroad

track

For the old horse knew the road.

But times have changed and the

foolish man

No more has a faithful friend.

Life has speeded up to a swifter

plan.

Death lurks at each curve and

bend.

OGLESBY TELLS OF CANDIDACY ON VISIT HERE

Former Lt. Governor of Illinois Calls on Dixon Friends

Hon. John G. Oglesby of Elkhart, former Lieutenant Governor of Illinois and now a candidate for the Republican nomination for governor, made a brief stop in Dixon Friday evening.

Governor Oglesby is a Spanish war veteran. He served a couple of terms as a member of the Illinois legislature before being elected Lieutenant Governor in 1908 and again in 1916.

Of his candidacy the Governor says:

Always having lived on a farm, I believe I have intimate knowledge of the problems and needs of our farmers. They are asking only equity and fair treatment in the economic world. This is their right and this they shall have. Not only must our schools be properly maintained, the teachers must not be underpaid and, furthermore, they must receive their hard-earned compensation when it is due them. All labor must receive just reward, in wages, working conditions and provision for periods of unemployment and old age. The excellent system of highways of which we are proud must be extended to fulfillment through the construction of farm-to-market roads in all sections.

In public life and office one cannot serve both himself and the people. I take my stand for the taxpayers as against the tax-wasters. I am for adjourning politics in favor of the men, women and children of Illinois.

Oglesby Advocates—

(1) Recognition of the farm problem as economic and not political.

(2) That farmers and farm organizations—not enemies of agriculture—are the proper agencies to recommend remedial farm legislation.

(3) A farm program which provides that the government make grants to the states—that the states then pay bounties to the farmers for removing necessary acreage from production—that the staffs of the state agricultural colleges then administer the program when adopted—as set out by former Governor Frank O. Lowden for insuring the farmers parity prices for their products commensurate with price levels for industry and labor. This program, together with provisions for building up the soil fertility by use of legumes, will assure an adequate supply for future generations.

(4) That the state road laws, and highway regulations, if strictly enforced will reduce death and injury on our improved highways.

(5) That our state institutions should consume more of Illinois grown fruits, vegetables, coal and other native products.

(6) That an amendment be provided for the revision of the revenue section of the State Constitution, providing for a more equitable distribution of the tax burden upon all classes of the people.

(7) That a legislative council be established, consisting of senators and representatives in the state legislature, to meet at least quarterly.

(8) That the state road laws, and highway regulations, if strictly enforced will reduce death and injury on our improved highways.

(9) That our state institutions should consume more of Illinois grown fruits, vegetables, coal and other native products.

(10) That an amendment be provided for the revision of the revenue section of the State Constitution, providing for a more equitable distribution of the tax burden upon all classes of the people.

(11) That a legislative council be established, consisting of senators and representatives in the state legislature, to meet at least quarterly.

Blast Clears Way for Norris Reservoir Progress

With a shattering roar, smoke and dust spouting high in the air and wreckage being huried in every direction, the Loyston bridge in the Norris Dam reservoir area was razed, as shown above, destruction paving the way to further progress in the mammoth TVA project. The last family in this section was moved out before U. S. army engineers touched off twin blasts of TNT and nitro-starch. The latter explosive, more plentiful and less expensive, was tested to see if it was as effective as TNT. It proved to be.

terly, to serve without pay, who shall recommend to the state legislature at least ninety days before its convention bills to enact, or amend laws that seem necessary for the best interests of the people, and to repeal those deemed unnecessary to the general welfare of the State.

Oglesby Opposes—

(1) That encourages idleness, or tends to pauperize those physically fit for work.

(2) Any expenditures of public road funds for other purposes than road construction, until the 75 per cent of our farmers who live on dirt roads have been provided with a farm-to-market system of improved highways which will enable them to market their products without unnecessary delay due to adverse weather and road conditions.

(3) Any unfair restriction, or regulation which deprives the owners and operators of trucks of their rightful use of our improved highways in the transportation of farm products and merchandise, and which places undue burden upon the shipper and consumer.

(4) Any adoption of Eastern time for any section of Illinois that works a hardship and is distinctly disadvantageous to the farmers and shippers of livestock in the marketing of their products, without a referendum of the voters.

(5) Any occupational sales tax, especially on food and clothing, which he has publicly denounced as "worse than slavery", and which makes every merchant and business man in the state a tax collector.

(6) That an amendment be provided for the revision of the revenue section of the State Constitution, providing for a more equitable distribution of the tax burden upon all classes of the people.

(7) That a legislative council be established, consisting of senators and representatives in the state legislature, to meet at least quarterly.

WEST AURORA ENDS DIXON'S CAGE SEASON

Scarlet Giants are Too Rangy, Tall for Sharpe Men

Dixon high's vast basketball empire that until Saturday had stretched in a broad band across north central Illinois from Erie in the southwest to DeKalb in the northeast was ruled today by West Aurora.

The huge Scarlet giants out-reached the Sharpshooters in the final game of the DeKalb sectional tourney Saturday night, 34-27, to grab the sectional crown and a right to enter the state tournament in Champaign this week.

In spite of defeat the Purple and White cagers had everything on West Aurora but height and size. Possessing these only weapons the Scarlets, after trailing three different times during the close tilt, finally tipped the scales in their direction by employing the advantage of their size.

West Aurora trotted onto the floor the Empire State building, a couple of Woolworth towers and a pair of Chrysler buildings mounted on stilts Saturday. To Dixonites the Colossus of Rhodes was a pigmy compared to the giant West Aurorans. Not at all daunted by this array of Big Seven talent the locals waded right in when the opening whistle sounded and Krug dropped in a pair of baskets in quick succession forcing West Aurora to call for time out to stem the unexpected rush. The game continued nip and tuck through the opening period, both teams missing set-ups under the hoop but Dixon forged into an 8-7 lead at its conclusion.

Dixon rushed into a 12-7 lead as the second frame opened but West Aurora gradually but surely closed the gap when Sanders began dropping in several long shots from the side, and Peterson, the Scarlets' sensational guard began his spectacular shooting orgy that netted him 13 points during the evening. At half time the count was tied 18 to 18.

In the third period the Sharpshooters moved into a 25-20 lead with Evans, Rebusk and Klein each counting a goal, and Evans and Rebusk making good a pair of free throws. Battling desperately to hog-tie their giant foes, the Purple men soon found themselves menaced by over-zealous personal fouls which threatened to remove the major portion of the team from the contest. Dixon's boys were forced to jump themselves almost to death to adequately guard the enemy and in so doing brought upon their heads the referee's whistle. This man-sized job sapped much of the Sharpe crew's energy and although Dixon led 26-24 as the last and final quarter began, it was evident that West Aurora was growing stronger and stronger, and much harder to handle. In that fatal stanza they held Dixon to only one free shot and then forged into the lead by taking advantage of Dixon fouls, which finally removed Rebusk and Krug from the game.

The extent to which the Dixonites fouled their opponents in their desperate attempt to cut down the Scarlet towers was demonstrated by Flentye's scoring record for the evening in West Aurora's line-up. He made eight points all on free throws and sank eight out of twelve of these gift chances. He never made a goal. High point man for Dixon was Krug, with ten points, and for West Aurora, Peterson made thirteen. Not once during the game was Dixon able to get the tipoff, yet held West Aurora to a remarkably close score considering this factor.

SMALL TOWNS ENTER STATE TOURNAMENT

Many Send Teams For the First Time in History

Champaign, Ill., March 16.—(AP)—Survivors of a three weeks' grind that saw elimination of many favorites along the route, the "sweet 16" of Illinois high school basketball teams will gather here Thursday, Friday and Saturday to name their 29th champion.

In a season of so many upsets, it is not surprising that a number of small town quintets should find their way to the state finals. And this year the most unusual of all these teams is little Hull school from Pike county.

With just 94 students enrolled, Hull high represents a town of 554 persons and is probably the smallest ever to enter the state finals. Hull brushed aside Quincy, Jacksonville, and Beardstown to win the Pittsfield sectional and qualify for the trip.

Danville Unbeaten
Another curiosity is Danville, which hasn't lost a game in a major sport since the 1935 state tournament. Its last football team was undefeated and its present basketball ensemble has whirled through 20 games without a setback. Now the Danville lads have their chance to break a jinx which prevents undefeated teams from winning state championships.

It will be their first trip to the state finals for Fulton, Mt. Pulaski, Ziegler, Hull, Proviso of Maywood, Paris, New Phillips of Chicago, and Vandalia.

Only Danville, Joliet, and Moline of last year's "sweet 16" earned the trip back. Moline comes for the third successive season. It is also Moline's fourth trip since the meet an honor which Moline shares with Decatur, Peoria Manual, and Centralia.

The veteran Centralia coach, Arthur L. Trout, will make his fifth appearance in the finals. It is to be his fourth at Champaign and his 1918 team won the state title when the meet was held at Springfield. Sam Storby, Proviso mentor, and George Bennet of Moline are coaches who earned their third successive trips to the state.

Peterman Went 9 Times
Yet all of these coaches' marks fall short of that of Mark Peterman who has figured in nine state meets. This year his Springfield team, defending state champion, was relegated to the sidelines in sectional play.

The Big Twelve conference of central Illinois placed three teams in the finals in Decatur, Danville, and Peoria Manual. The Big Seven placed two, Joliet and West Aurora, who have not lost a game all season outside the confines of their own league.

Other prep leagues represented are the Suburban, North Egypt, Big Eleven, Central Egypt, Northwestern, and Eastern Illinois.

PEORIA STATUS WESTERN LOOP IS QUESTIONED

Sioux City, Ia., March 16.—(AP)—President A. J. McLaughlin of the Western league, informed that the Three-I circuit will not operate in 1936, said today he will ask Judge W. G. Bramham, president of the association of professional baseball leagues, the exact status of Peoria, Ill., territorial rights.

L. J. Wylie of Decatur, Ill., former president of the Three-I, said Saturday Judge Bramham had ruled Peoria would not be permitted to enter the Western this season.

President McLaughlin declared, however, that, although he had received no word from Judge Bram-

GOULD PICKS METCALFE AS BEST CHOICE

Doubts Jese Owens' Ability To Stand The Pressure

(This is the first of a series on America's outstanding Olympic track and field prospects, based on developments of the winter season and prospects for the summer campaign leading to Berlin. They represent the views of the country's foremost coaches, as given to Alan Gould, Associated Press sports editor, who has covered the last three Olympiads and is booked to accompany the American team abroad this year.)

By ALAN GOULD
New York, March 16.—(AP)—Ralph Metcalfe, Marquette graduate student whose flying feet slipped up on the threshold of Olympic conquest four years ago, is the outstanding choice of America's foremost track coaches for international honors in the Berlin games this summer.

"Metcalfe should breeze in this time," says Robert (Dink) Templeton, Stanford coach, in picking the runner who was captured seven out of eight available national outdoor sprint titles in the past four years.

Metcalfe Coming Along
"The big Negro is coming along without the strain of a college season, just as Eddie Tolan did in 1932. Metcalfe's powerful physique will carry him through the grind and make him this country's best bet to retain sprint supremacy."

But what about Ohio State's Jese Owens, who equaled the world 100-yard mark of 9.4 and lowered the 220-yard record to 20.3 seconds in one dazzling afternoon of unprecedented performances last spring, or Eulace Peacock, Temple's holder of national broad jumping as well as 100-meter honors?

Templeton doubts if Owens, less rugged than Metcalfe, can withstand the pressure especially on heavier European tracks. He rates the Buckeye bullet "tops" in the broad jump. Other coaches, including Bernie Moore of Louisiana State and Dean Cromwell of Southern California, bracket Owens with Metcalfe for the Olympic sprints.

In any event, it appears the American Negro's dominance of world sprint championships, first asserted in 1932 at Los Angeles, will continue. Four years ago, diminutive bespectacled Tolan, graduate of Michigan, scored an Olympic "double", beating Metcalfe by an eyelash in the 100 meters and capturing the 200 easily, with George Simpson of Ohio State second and Metcalfe, victim of a bad start, running third. Tolan has since turned professional.

California's White Hope
California's George Anderson, I. C. 4-A, 100-meters champion, is rated by coaches the outstanding "white hope." Brutus Hamilton, California coach who agrees with Templeton that Metcalfe should be the "class of the Olympic field" has this to say about his pupil, Anderson: "He had a brilliant record for he was undefeated in 28 races in Europe. He is unusually strong and will go after both 100 and 200 meters but his best race is the longer distance. He should improve this year."

The South has two possibilities in Herman Neugassien the Tulane star who has been clocked in 9.4 for 100 yards, and Bobby Packard, university of Georgia freshman. Packard is a great prospect, in the opinion of Lawson Robertson, Pennsylvania and Olympic head coach. Chick Wallender, Texas star, and Foy Draper, diminutive Southern Californian, also are prospects.

COON DOGS TRAIL WOLVES
Webb City, Mo.—(AP)—Coon dogs fancied for sporting pastimes, have been turned to the more serious labor of tracking down wolves in this vicinity. Farmers report wide losses of small stock and poultry to bands of wolves reported in increasing numbers during the past few years.

HAS A BILL
Spartanburg, S. C.—(AP)—W. L. Padgett daily has offers to buy a rare eight-dollar bill he owns, but he doesn't intend to part with it. The note has been handed down in his family for 100 years.

ham, he believed the ruling stipulated that Peoria would be free to join the Western if the Three-I failed to function.

Announcement that the Three-I would not organize was made last night by Ross C. Harriott, Terre Haute, Ind., secretary of the league. He said a sixth city for the circuit could not be found since Peoria did not care to remain in the organization.

Thomason, Ga., also by 2 and 1.

RED SOX MUST BAT AGAINST PROSPERITY

Million Dollar Team Might Be Lazy Outfit

Sarasota, Fla., March 16.—(AP)—Boston's million dollar Red Sox must beat one of the toughest "pitchers" of them all to make good their boast of running away with the American league pennant this year.

They have to bat—and bat hard against prosperity. Except for a question or two about the pitchers, who give every indication of coming through, the team has championship class written all over it. But can it stand prosperity, pull together and keep going at full steam? That's the big question.

Most experts believe the team, like an all-star aggregation, will get lazy and lose its chance to a hustling club like Detroit or Cleveland. Manager Joe Cronin insists they are wrong.

Here at Sarasota pervades probably the most aristocratic atmosphere in baseball training camp history. Meals are served in full courses, the players are cheered like trans-Atlantic heroes when they drill. They change clothes two or three times daily and work out two hours every morning.

Has Team To Beat
Cronin has made a flat prediction he has the team to beat.

"I don't see where they get the idea that we have an old men's club here," he said. "Of the probable regulars, Manush is the only man over 30, except for Walberg and Grove. I'll come out right now with the prediction that we think we can win in 1936, '37 and '38. We've got a young ball club and we're building for the future—not just for 1936."

Cronin is planning on Grove, Wes Ferrell, Johnny Marcum, and Fred Ostermuller to make up his "big four" among the pitchers. Joe Cascarella, Walberg, Johnny Welch and Manuel Salvo probably will complete the hurling corps.

The Red Sox probably will open the season with this powerful line-up: Mel Almada, Dusty Cooke or Art Graham, right field; Roger Cramer, center field; Manush, left field; Fox, first base; Cronin, shortstop; McNair, second; Bill Werber (still a holdout), third, and Rick Ferrell, catcher.

Werber will sign up all right," said Cronin, "but if he shouldn't, John Kroner might be a capable substitute there. He looks like a comer to us."

Amateur-Pro Golf Meet Pits Picard Against Sarazen

St. Augustine, Fla., March 16.—(AP)—Henry Picard and Gene Sarazen, with their amateur partners, contested today in the 36-hole finale of the second annual national amateur-professional match play golf championship at the St. Augustine links.

Sarazen and Mollie Reynolds, of Jacksonville, Fla., defeated the team of Paul Runyan, White Plains, N. Y., pro, and Charles Whitehead of South River, N. J., 2 and 1, in the 36-hole semi-finals Sunday. In the other semi-final match Picard and Jack Cummins, former Cleveland district amateur champion, disposed of Orville White of St. Louis, Mo., and Scottie Beverly of Thomasville, Ga., also by 2 and 1.

NEWS FROM BASEBALL CAMPS

Associated Press Sports Writers Tell of Activities of Major League Stars and Rookies.

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.

Clearwater.—Commissioner Landis, Will Harridge, W. G. Bramham and Bob Quinn were in the stands yesterday as the Tigers beat the Dodgers 6-5. They probably heard the imprecations heaped on Umpire Charlie Moran by the Dodgers who were of the opinion that game decisioning cost them the game.

Pensacola.—Bill Terry of the Giants is bearing down on the Messrs. Ripple and Leslie while Hank Lieber is absent and he is ailing from his bum knee. He had them chasing fungoes for an hour before yesterday's game with the Indians.

San Antonio.—The Pirates were in for a light workout today in making ready for the first, barnstormer with the Chicago Cubs tomorrow. Arky Vaughan, champion slugger of the National league, is getting away in great shape. Got three hits in five trips to the plate in an intra-camp game yesterday.

Orlando.—Sensational outfield catches by Stone, Powell and Hill were credited with preventing the Phillies from taking the lead on three different occasions in yesterday's game, won by the Senators 5-3.

West Palm Beach.—Five Brown recruits left camp yesterday for Laredo, Tex., to join the San Antonio team in training there. They were infielder Tommy Cigno, St. Louis and Ray Getzelbach, Roy Weisenborn, Sidham Talley and Charles Petro, all pitchers.

St. Petersburg.—Rain is playing havoc with the plans of the Boston Bees. Rain called off the Saturday game with the Tigers and Waterfront park was too wet for Sunday's game. The teams hope to get into action today.

Sarasota.—The Red Sox were still talking about that homer Jimmy Foxx clouted against the Reds yesterday. The ball went 465 feet with two on base and that distance would indicate that the former A's star is still getting plenty of punch behind his shots.

Tampa.—A three-hour practice tilt was on tap for the Reds today. The team encounters the Bees Tuesday. Ival Goodman's batting prowess has caught the eye of Dresen.

Lakeland.—The Tigers move on to St. Petersburg to take on the Bees today. The boys were glad to see Al Simmons hit one over the fence as the Tigers beat the Dodgers 6-5 yesterday. There were seven homers in that game with Rudy York, recruit first sacker, getting two.

Winter Haven.—The Phillies had the consolation of a sure win today—because they were playing themselves. Johnny Moore has a perfect pinch hitting record in the Phils' three Grapefruit league games, having singled against the Dodgers and Senators and drawn a pass from the cars.

Five Years Ago Today—In a sensational finish, Vandee won the featured race at St. Johns, Fla., at odds of 65-1.

Ten Years Ago Today—Charley Hoff of Norway shattered the world indoor pole vault record when he cleared 13 feet 7 inches in Madison Square Garden.

Cunningham, a runner who usually sets the pace and relies upon his consistent speed to wear his rivals down, turned the tables on his two foes in Saturday night's Columbus games when he jogged along in the rear Mangan and Venzke, who had shown more sprinting power than Cunningham in previous races this winter, figured that such tactics were all to their liking, and their leisurely pace-making resulted in the race being run in the ridiculously slow time of 4 minutes, 46.8 seconds.

The crowd of 16,000 fans, hoping to see some sort of record established, was voicing its distaste for the slow pace when Cunningham, with two and a half laps to go, spurred out in front in a drive that resulted in the fastest last quarter ever recorded in a mile race and breezed across the line three yards in front of Venzke and four in front of Mangan. It was the first time this winter he had beaten the Penn flyer.

Slow Pace Deceives Penn Flyer, Mangan Also Loses

Newark, N. J., March 16.—(AP)—Glenn Cunningham, the Kansas miler, probably will wear a grin as he leaps off the mark with an old foe, Joe Mangan, in the 1500-meter race at the 13th Regiment Armory tonight.

For Cunningham beat Mangan and Gene Venzke of Pennsylvania by outguessing and outspitting them in a bizarre mile race at Madison Square Garden Saturday night.

Cunningham and Mangan each have two victories over the other this winter. Cunningham also won the Curley mile at Boston in a contest that resulted in charge of jostling against the deep-chested westerner. Mangan beat Cunningham in the Baxter mile and at Providence more than a week ago.

As a rule, the larger the bird, the slower the wing beat, but there are numerous exceptions to the rule. Naturally, too, the speed with which a bird flaps its wings depends entirely on wind conditions, and whether or not the bird is in a hurry. ## PRISONER AT STATEVILLE IS PAROLED

Joliet, Ill., March 16—(AP)—Anthony Billburg, 33, serving a prison term for the slaying of Connor Looney in Rock Island, was released from Stateville penitentiary Saturday.

Billburg, sentenced to serve 20 years in 1924 for the slaying of young Looney, son of John Looney, was in prison 11 years and three months.

Suffering from tuberculosis of the spine and unable to walk, Billburg was carried from the prison hospital on a stretcher. Warden Joseph Ragen said he would be taken to Arizona.

John Looney served 8 years in the same prison after being convicted of the murder in 1922 of William Gabel, Rock Island saloonkeeper, during a vice war which swept that city. Like Billburg, he also contracted tuberculosis while in prison.

Both prisoners testified before a prison investigating committee in 1931 that they were denied outside treatment and their cases disregarded by prison physicians.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

"Substance" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, March 15.

The Golden Text was "Honour the Lord with thy substance, and with the first fruits of all thine increase" (Prov. 3:9).

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "The Lord is the portion of mine inheritance and of my cup: thou maintainest my lot. The lines are fallen unto me in pleasant places; yea, I have a goodly heritage" (Psalms 16:5, 6).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science Textbook: "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "As God is substance and man is the divine image and likeness, man should wish for, and in reality has, only the substance of good, the substance of Spirit, not matter. The belief that man has any other substance, or mind, is not spiritual and breaks the First Commandment. Thou shalt have one God, one Mind" (p. 301).

BEGIN HERE TODAY

Toby Ryan, 19, works behind the jewelry counter of a large Manhattan department store. On her way to work during the crowded morning rush hour Toby collides with a good-looking young man. She murmurs apologies and hurries on.

Later that morning she poses for some photographs to be used in a store advertisement and MARTY HATT, the photographer, tells her she has a "camera face." He selected her instead of MAURINE HALL, to pose for the pictures and Maurine is jealous.

Toby leaves the store at 5:30 and meets BILL BRANDY. Bill works in an advertising agency. They go to dinner.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER IV

It was just an ordinary February day like a dozen others. Toby didn't see anything unusual about it as she hurried to the subway station. There was time enough this morning, but hurrying had become a habit. Besides, the air was cold and damp and it was slushy underfoot. Toby was glad to reach the store.

She had a customer almost as soon as the doors were opened. From then on, the morning routine was just as it had been the day before. Toby lunched in the employees' cafeteria and wondered why it was that the pea soup tasted exactly like the bean soup the day before and the cream of vegetable soup the day before that. The prune pudding was good, though. She had an extra cup of coffee and talked for five minutes with a girl who had been transferred, two weeks before, from the jewelry department to the fourth floor misses' wear.

Promptly at 1:15 Toby was back at her counter. So far, nothing had happened to set that February day apart from any other.

Glady Sorenson sat lunch at the sandwich shop around the corner and came back to report that it was growing colder outside. "Wouldn't surprise me," she said. "If it's snowing by 5 o'clock."

Toby said, "Ugh! I hope not," and wished that she owned a pair of galoshes.

Glady, who had a fondness for discussions of the weather, went on, "Last year, just about this time, we had that terrible snow storm. It lasted for three days. Don't you remember—"

Glady's reminiscences were cut short by the approach of a customer, and Toby moved away. Business, oddly enough, was not so brisk during the early afternoon as it had been through the morning.

It was while Toby was showing a new white and jade compact to a woman wearing a leopard coat that she noticed the young man. Involuntarily Toby's eyes raised. Then she lowered them quickly. It was the same young man—no doubt about it. The one she had bumped into on her way to work the day before. He was standing less than a dozen feet away.

Toby said, without looking up, "It's really the nicest compact we have. The medallion is real jade."

"The woman in the leopard coat interrupted. "Yes, it's very attractive. You said the price is $4.98, didn't you?"

"That's right. Four ninety-eight."

"I'll take it," the woman announced. She opened her handbag, drawing out a coin purse.

Apparently she stopped. "Oh," she exclaimed, "I'd forgotten. I meant to cash a check this morning." She stared at Toby, went on hurriedly.

In army strength, Soviet Russia heads the world list with 1,180,000; France comes second with 340,637; Italy third with 241,886; and Japan fourth with 233,786.

The glittering handful was worth more than $250.

"I haven't the money to pay for the compact. Could you have it wrapped and hold it for me? I'll be back within an hour or so."

"Why, certainly," Toby agreed. "I'll have it ready for you, I'm Miss Ryan. If you don't see me, just ask one of the other girls—"

The woman smiled. "Thank you," she said. "I'll remember." As she moved away she repeated, "I'll be back within an hour."

Toby nodded and bent over her sales book.

"Miss Ryan?"

She hadn't expected to hear her name, and looked up, startled. The young man—yes, it was the same one, all right; the brown eyes, the gray hat, the tweed topcoat all checked—stood directly before her.

"You are Miss Ryan, aren't you?" "Why—yes, yes."

He smiled, looking very well pleased with himself. "That's what I thought you said," he told her. "I heard you talking to that woman—nobody in the direction in which the woman in the leopard coat had gone. You know, you rushed away in such a hurry yesterday—"

Toby met his eyes. She looked as though she were about to rush away a second time, but instead she said, "You'll have to go. I can't stand here talking. We're not allowed—"

"But just a minute—please—" the young man began.

"I'm sorry," Toby said firmly. "It's against the store rules."

"What is?"

"Talking."

His face showed amazement. "You mean you can't talk—never, not to anyone?"

"I did sound ridiculous and Toby couldn't help smiling. She said, a little more kindly, "Only to customers."

"Oh—then that's all right. I'm a customer."

"Are you?" she asked. "What is it you want?"

The brown eyes twinkled. "That's a large order," the young man said, "but I'll begin. First of all, your full name, address, telephone number—"

Toby backed away. "Excuse me," she said coolly, "I thought you were a customer."

"But I am! I mean I want to be. I want—" The young man looked about him. His eyes lighted on a tray of rhinestone clips. "Those," he finished triumphantly. "I want those."

"You mean those clips?"

He nodded. "Clips," he said. "Is that what they are? Yes, I want them."

"All of them?"

"Yes."

"But—there are 20 of them."

"They're for sale, aren't they?"

"Yes."

"Then I want them."

Toby hesitated only an instant. Above the tray was a sign reading, "Genuine hand-set rhinestone clips, $2.98." Her pencil on her sales book, Toby said in her most businesslike tone, "Will it be a cash or charge purchase?"

"Charge," the young man told

her. "The name is Jamieson—Timothy Jamieson."

She wrote it down. "Twenty rhinestone clips at $2.98 each," she said. "That's—let's see—$59.60."

Tim Jamieson nodded. "Will you—er—have them sent?" The address he gave was one which even Toby knew was fashionable.

She nodded. "The package will be delivered in the morning, Mr. Jamieson. Thank you very much. And I hope you like your clips."

"But, see here—"

"Was there anything else you wanted?"

"Yes," he said, "there's something I want very much. I want you to have dinner with me tonight. I'll be waiting for you—any time you say. Or, if you'd rather, I'll pick you up somewhere—"

Toby smiled, but shook her head. "I'm sorry," she said. "I can't."

"Oh, but you'll change your mind! A girl like you couldn't be so hard-hearted. Now, listen, when the store closes I'll be waiting for you."

Toby didn't bother to object to that. A customer had paused at the other end of the counter and she hurried toward her. When she looked back a little later the young man was gone.

Toby thought of the $59.60 in her sales book. It certainly wasn't every day that you made sales like that in the costume jewelry. Maybe she'd got a bonus this week. If she did, she could buy the shoes she needed and galoshes. He really was a nice-looking young man. There was something about him that was rather—rather exciting. Oh, well, she'd never see him again. That was the end of that.

But the day that had begun in such an ordinary fashion had more in store for Toby Ryan—much more.

The oddest thing about it was that it all happened so naturally. It was a few minutes past 2 when Miss Burrows, the jewelry buyer, approached Toby. "The artists have finished with those watches we sent up to have sketched for the Saturday advertisement," she said. "Will you go up and bring them down? Ask for Mr. Keller. He'll get them for you."

Toby said, "Yes, Miss Burrows." She knew exactly what to do; she had gone on such errands before. Toby stepped into the elevator and said, "Ninth floor." She liked going to the advertising office. It was so different from the rows and rows of counters on the first floor.

She entered the big room, hesitated, and then went up to the nearest desk. "Is Mr. Keller here?" Toby asked.

The door of a private office opened just then and a man stepped out. It was Mr. Keller, the art director, and Toby recognized him. She hurried forward. "Miss Burrows sent me for the watches that were sketched," she said.

"Oh, yes." The art director crossed to a desk, picked up four tiny watches attached to bracelets. Three of them were yellow gold discs. The fourth was the handsomest "debutante special," white gold with tiny diamonds gleaming on either side of the oblong face. "Here they are," he said, and put them in Toby's hand.

She looked down at the watches. The glittering handful, she knew, was worth something like $250.

A minute later Toby stood in the hallway, waiting for the elevator to take her to the first floor.

DURKES EDITOR DHS YEAR BOOK

Work is rapidly progressing on Dixon high school's yearbook under the editorship of Richard Durkes.

The staff of the yearbook for 1936 is composed of members from the Dixon staff during the first semester. Out of these persons five will be chosen to act as editors in art, make-up, and the remainder will act as reporters in writing up material for the pictures of clubs and organizations.

Senior pictures this year will be arranged in alphabetical order with extra-curricular activities in which each may have partaken, listed beside the picture. A small item of interest concerning each picture will be made in the book beneath the picture.

Faculty members are in a group picture and will precede the graduates' pictures in the book.

The arrangement of all photographs will differ from previous years as this season's picture will be grouped according to season rather than students, organizations and athletics. Stories of Hi-Tri, Senior Boys' Honor Club, Glee Club, Year Book Staff, and other extra-curricular activities will appear as usual. The book will resemble in size those of previous years and will not be completed until the end of the second semester.

Floods Surge Over Vast Area in East

As swollen rivers carried destruction across New England, New York, and Pennsylvania, hundreds fled for their lives, as damage mounted into millions. ## RHINELAND CALM AS ARMY DAY IS OBSERVED THERE

Quiet Celebration of Germany's Defiance in Re-arming

(Copyright, 1935, The Associated Press)

Frankfurt-on-Main, Germany, March 16.—The remilitarized Rhineland today celebrated "Army Day," the first anniversary of German rearmament in defiance of the Versailles treaty, with observances to the "symbolic" character of the troop occupation now ten days old.

Military pomp was banned. Parades were sketchy. No display of air power took place at the air-drome, though a squadron of small scouting planes was drawn up before the hangars.

The mildness of the observance was due in part to the dampening influence of the international situation.

The deliberate emphasis on the "symbolic" character of the military occupation, so characterized by Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler a week ago Saturday, led to the cancellation of a big scale troop review scheduled for today.

It would have been the first of its kind here since 1914.

Wait For Hitler

As Frankfurt-on-Main awaited the arrival of the German dictator for an address tonight, 19 battalions of regular troops contained themselves with a brief before-breakfast "military week" march through the streets. Then they retired to barracks, and the swastika-beflagged streets were dominated throughout the day by the black and brown Nazi formations mobilized for Hitler's visit.

Gen. Hermann Goering, minister of aviation, arrived unannounced for a first inspection of the air force since German troops marched into the Rhineland. At the air-drome a detachment of the motorized signal corps erected a field wireless set.

The public and the press were discouraged from entering the field. The only airplanes aloft were the regular passenger airlines arriving and departing. Long lines of black-uniformed Nazi guards controlled the highways leading to the airport.

"UNCONQUERABLE"

Berlin, March 16.—(AP)—Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler, declaring Germany's armies "can never be conquered," conferred new regimental flags by decree on his armed forces today, on the first anniversary of Germany's rearmament in defiance of the Versailles treaty.

"The old armies' glorious career was cut short by the events of 1918," Der Fuehrer said in his decree issued in his role as supreme commander-in-chief of the Reich's army.

"The gallant soldiers whose

Der Fuehrer also introduced a new order for "faithful military service."

Garrison troops marched from their barracks through the Brandenburg gate into the west end of the city, bands playing brisk marches.

In other garrison towns, outside the Rhineland, commanders addressed their assembled troops on the significance of this day—just one year after Der Fuehrer announced abruptly to the world his rearming of the Reich.

SERGE MDIVANI, OF "MARRYING" PRINCES, KILLED

Kicked in Head by His Polo Pony as Bride Watches Accident

Palm Beach, Fla., March 16.—(AP)—Death in a polo game gave a final dramatic touch today to the colorful life story of 33-year-old Prince Serge Mdivani, one of the widely-known "Marrying Mdivani" brothers.

While his bride of less than six weeks, the former Louise Astor Van Alen of Newport, R. I., collapsed at his side from the shock of grief, Prince Serge died late yesterday a few minutes after he was kicked on the head by his horse from which he had fallen.

The tragedy, recalling the death of his brother, Prince Alexis, in an automobile accident in Spain a few months ago, occurred at the Delray Beach polo field about 20 miles south of here.

Prince Serge's bride, one of America's outstanding socialites, was the divorced wife of Prince Alexis. She was watching the match between Serge's Georgians and the Texans, led by Cecil Smith, when Serge attempted a daring maneuver. He cut his pony across the line of play for a difficult reach. His mount collided with Smith's.

Kicked in Head.

Down went pony and rider. Prince Serge struggled to his feet. He was kicked in the head and fell again. Ten minutes later he was dead from a cerebral hemorrhage. An inductor was used more than an hour in vain efforts to revive him.

Although informed at first that her husband's injury was slight, the Princess rushed to his side. Soon it became apparent his condition was serious, and the inductor was brought. As physicians continued to work over the Prince, it started raining but the Princess, drenched to the skin, stayed on the field until all hope was gone.

Mdivani's body was brought here to await funeral arrangements.

Prince Serge's first wife was Pola Negri, motion picture actress. They were married in 1927 and divorced in 1931. His second wife was Mary McCormic, opera singer, who was married to him in 1931 and divorced in 1933.

Singer Weeps.

The singer wept without restraint last night in Buffalo, N. Y., on learning Prince Serge had been killed. Later she slipped away and boarded a train for Chicago.

Prince Alexis was for former husband of Countess Barbara Hutten-Haugwitz-Reventlow, from whom he was divorced in Reno, Nev., last May, shortly before he was killed. Prince David, only survivor of the famous three brothers, was married to Mae Murray, motion picture actress, in 1926 and divorced in 1933. He resides in California.

Prince Serge was born at Batoun, Georgia in Russia in 1902. His father, General Zakhari Mdivani, was aide-de-camp to the Czar during the World War and later was secretary of war in the Georgian national government. The family's oil properties in Georgia were taken over by Communists.

POLA IS SORRY.

Berlin, March 16.—(AP)—Pola Negri, first wife of Prince Serge Mdivani, expressed sorrow today at his death in a polo accident in Florida.

"What a dreadful thing to happen after Alexis' death!" she said. "We remained great friends, even after he married again. I am deeply sorry."

Indianapolis, March 16.—(AP)—Local booster teams went into action today in the American Bowling Congress after a week-end of heavy scoring by out-of-state keglers which resulted in a general shakeup of the standings.

The Indiana Boosters will perform on the alleys until next Friday when another contingent of bowlers from other states arrive.

New leaders appeared in each class in the tournament during the matches yesterday. Second Drugs of Chicago blasted their way into the lead in the team division with a count of 2,896. In the two man event Ed Hanson and Russ Gersonde of Wauwatosa, Wis., moved into the top spot with 1,260.

ILLINOIS "U." IS PREPARING FOR STATE TOURNEY

Sixteen Sectional Winners Will Be Guests Soon

Champaign, Ill., March 16.—The office of C. E. Bowen, ticket manager, is the storm center of activity as the University of Illinois athletic department rushes preparations to welcome the 16 sectional winners and their followers to the state high school basketball tournament Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

Demand for season tickets is the largest in the history of the cage classic, Manager Bowen reports, as he makes ready for the final allotment of season ticket applications on Monday. This is the last date on which season ticket orders will be accepted. The season pasteboards, which include reserved seats at night and admission to a special section at the day sessions, are $3 for adults and $1.50 for high and grade school pupils.

This year's innovation of reserving all seats for the night sessions is also proving popular. Monday is the last date on which mail orders for night seats will be accepted on account of the lack of time remaining to assure delivery of orders but these tickets may be obtained over the counter at the ticket office on Tuesday and Wednesday and at the gymnasium ticket booths from Thursday morning on.

Price 50c Thursday

The price for individual sessions is 50 cents for day sessions Thursday and Friday and 75 cents for night and Saturday afternoon.

High school coaches and physical directors will have the opportunity of attending various "in-between" programs arranged by the Illinois staff and the State Coaches' association. Principals and head basketball coaches will be granted the privilege of season tickets at half-price by the State High School association but their applications must be received by Monday.

NEWS of the CHURCHES

BRETHREN CHURCH

The attendance at Sunday school went soaring upward yesterday until it reached the highest point reached this year which makes the pendulum begin to swing in the other direction and the superintendent, Roy Glessner encouraged the school to continue their efforts in regaining what was lost during the severe winter weather.

Everyone was pleased with the large attendance and interest manifested in the Sunday evening service which encouraged the twenty young people who gave a radio broadcast program which was well received, being one of the best of the season and many were expressing their appreciation of the fine service.

The Go-Getters Sunday school class will conduct the service Wednesday evening at 7:30 and there should be a large attendance.

The Crusaders Sunday school class will have a social at the parsonage Thursday night. All members and friends of the class are invited.

The Home Builders Sunday school class will meet at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Moats Thursday night for a class social. This is one of the growing classes of the school and they are working hard for new members.

An unusual service is being planned for next Sunday night when a large group will again conduct the service. One of the leading features of the service will be the interviews which will bring out some practical lessons concerning the church and society of today.

CHRISTIAN CHURCH

Bible school attendance was better than the previous Sunday, but not yet back to last year's mark. There were 262 present. Reports of the adult classes showed their members present as follows: Philo-hia, 34; Men, 30; Young Men, 26; Upstreamers, 25; True Blue, 20; Progressives, 17.

Superintendent J. G. Leach will have charge of the prayer meeting and Workers Conference which will open at 7:30 Wednesday night.

ELLINWOOD MAY EARN OLYMPIC TRACK BERTH

Great Performance In Big Ten Annual Indoor Meet

Chicago, March 16.—(AP)—On the strength of two sizzling indoor performances in the quarter mile, sophomore Ray Ellinwood of Chicago seemed headed for a prominent place on the United States Olympic track squad today.

Ellinwood followed up a 49 flat 440 against Notre Dame in a recent dual meet with the dazzling time of 48.9 as he won the event Saturday in the Big Ten indoor titular meet at the Chicago field house. He had to overhaul Stan Birleson of Michigan, who led about two-thirds of the distance, and did it with a stunning finishing sprint that brought him home 12 yards in front.

Bettors Official Rank

Ellinwood's great effort bettered the listed world indoor mark of 49.3 seconds, set by Alex Wilson of Notre Dame in 1932, along with establishing a new Big Ten standard. The old Big Ten mark was 49.4 seconds, made by Ivan Fuqua, rugged Indiana star, in 1934.

The Maroon sophomore took individual honors, while Michigan, given no better than an outside change of repeating, rolled up 33 points to win its third straight team title. Wisconsin was second, with 31.4 points, while Indiana, the favorite, landed third with 25.4.

The Hoosiers faded when Don Lash, its brilliant distance star, placed no better than fifth in the mile, and failed to finish the two mile.

Sam Stoller, chunky Michigan sprinter, won a semi-final heat of the 60 yard dash in 6.1 seconds, equalling Jesse Owens' world indoor mark, but lost to Bob Grieve of Illinois in the final in time a tenth of a second slower.

Housing and ventilation for poultry is the subject under discussion at the farmers' evening class in Dixon high school tonight, the discussion being supervised by John N. Weiss, agriculture professor.

A record crowd of thirty farmers attended the interesting and profitable talks on care, breeding, feeding and purchase of baby chicks last week at which different kinds of brooder houses were compared, and the proper methods of purchasing and raising chicks treated.

Two more sessions on poultry production will remain after tonight's meeting. The subject will be feeding of chicks and laying hens, also fattening, disease prevention and sanitation, and the subject, marketing of poultry.

Many farmers' wives attended last week's session. The class in studying poultry, is examining a topic that is of vital interest to

CANADIENS OUT OF PLAYOFF IN HOCKEY LEAGUE

New York, March 16.—(AP)—The Montreal Canadiens, the Flying Frenchmen of the National Hockey League, have been shut out of the Stanley Cup playoffs for the first time in a decade.

They wound up a dismal season last night, as far as a play-off berth was concerned, with their intra-city rivals, the Montreal Maroons, downing them 3-1.

Four points behind the New York Americans in the international division standings, they have two more road games to play, but the league rule that dictates that ties have an adverse bearing on a team's standing when it winds up the season tied with another team in points, obviates the Canadiens' chances of beating the Americans into the play-offs.

The Canadiens have played 11 ties this season while the Americans have played but seven. The Americans have three more games to play.

The Americans lost 2-1 to a New York Ranger team that was fighting to get a play-off berth and which managed to remain in the running, one point behind the third place Boston Bruins who defeated the Chicago Blackhawks 1-0 in Boston.

Charlie Conacher sent a high drive into the net from center ice to give the Toronto Maple Leafs a 2-1 overtime victory over the Detroit Red Wings on the latter's ice.
